The Jessie Mae's Foundation's Inaugural Back to School Drive

Marietta, GA., June 17, 2019 – Before the school year starts the Jessie Mae Foundation is hosting a back to school drive to provide students with essential supplies that will help them become academically successful. For students in need, JMF plans to assist by becoming a resource to families that can't afford the expenses and distributing the donations to those students who could benefit from educational necessities.

From June 1st - August 1st, The Jessie Mae Foundation is accepting nominations and donations to achieve their goal to assist 50 students. Donations such as: classroom materials, school supplies, book bags and monetary gifts are welcome and appreciated. No donation is too big or too small when helping students prepare for their future and making a difference. Providing them with adequate supplies will encourage the students to go to class and be fully prepared to learn.

“There are so many students that feel embarrassed while in class because they don't have the proper supplies. That's where The JMF Back to School Drive comes in to lend a helping hand so no child is left behind” stated Carla Crawford The Chief Development Officer of the Jessie Mae Foundation. Donations can be brought to JMF's main office in Marietta, where they will also be distributing the supplies for the students. The Jessie Mae Foundation wants to encourage the community to support and be a part of furthering a student's education.
